

1. Differentiation of alcantara and fabric interior components

Different colored alcantara and fabric interior components for the automotive industry should be distinguished. For this purpose the color-gloss and structure sensor type COAST-85-30°/30° will be used. At this, the distance from the sensor base plate to the object is approximately 85mm. The interior components can be proper differentiated as shown in the screenshots.

