

1. Inner diameter measurement of metal components

The inner diameter of metal components should be measured. For this purpose, a laser through beam sensor type L-LAS-TB-28-T/R-AL is used. At this, the distance from the transmitter as well as from the receiver to the object is approximately 50mm. The diameter can be proper measured as shown in the screenshots.

